

Blue Columbine

Aquilegia coerulea

Characteristics: Large flowers, petals with long spurs. All parts of plants are poisonous. Columbines will grow in full sun to part shade or dappled sunlight with moderate moisture.

Native Range: Rocky Mountain States from Idaho and Montana south to Arizona and New Mexico

Landscape Uses: Perennial garden, Accent Plant, Butterfly garden, deer resistant garden